CUMULATIVE BOOK INDEX

1953-1956

Suggestions for Finding the Information You Want in the Cumulative Book Index

Author

Look first under the author's name; the most complete information is given there. In case of compilation or of corporate authorship this main entry may be found under names of editors; under names of countries, states and cities which are treated as authors of their publications and law reports; under names of societies or conventions as authors of their transactions, journals, reports and collections; under names of churches as authors of liturgies, catechisms, etc. (local churches under name of place); under Bible for the Bible or any of its parts, and similarly other sacred books, e.g. Vedas; and under first word (not an article) of titles of anonymous works, some yearbooks, and some works of collective authorship. Translations, abridgements and indexes are put under the original work.

In the author entry may be found fuller name forms (including pseudonyms), more complete title, series, paging, Library of Congress card number and Wilson card (W) symbol, in addition to the author, title, edition, price, date of publication and publisher (or source whence book may be obtained) which are also given in the subject entry.

Title

If you do not know the author's name, look under first word of the title, not an article.

Subject

Books may also be found under subject. Turn to the subject under which you think the desired book may have been entered, e.g. Heredity. If you do not find it there, look thru the See also references at the end of this subject for another subject heading which may describe your book more exactly, e.g. Eugenics, Genetics, Variation (biology), etc.

Other information

Books about which you have little information may often be traced thru the entry under editor, joint author or translator. Entries under titles of series, or under institutions to which series belong, give the publisher's name; his catalog may then be consulted for a complete listing of the books in that series.

When a book is published in more than one country, publisher in each country of issue is given with price in the currency of that country, except in the case of a few publishers who habitually quote otherwise. In these cases, the entry should be carefully examined to determine the proper and convenient source for order.

If you do not find a book published during 1953-1956, look in later issues of the Cumulative Book Index. Sometimes it is impossible to obtain information at the proper time for entry.

Arrangement of Entries

Author, subject, title and other entries are all in one alphabet.

Names of persons precede names of places, names of places precede similar names of things, and these in turn precede similar first words of titles, e.g. Wood, Charles; Wood (substance); Wood carver

Under names of persons the order is

1. Works of which the person is the author
2. References to works of which he is joint author, editor or translator
3. Works about the person

Under names of places the order is

1. Official publications by departments or bureaus
2. Works about the place, subdivisions or special phases being shown by headings in the center of the column
3. Societies, institutions, etc., the names of which begin with the name of the place, and titles beginning with the name of the place, interfiled.

In case of foreign classics, editions in the original tongue are placed first, followed next by editions in both the original and English, and last by editions in English. In each of these groups, as well as in the case of English classics, the arrangement is by publisher; editions with marked variation from the usual title are arranged alphabetically at the end. Books which are often published in various parts are arranged with the complete editions first, followed by the parts in diminishing degrees of inclusiveness; according to this same plan, abridged and rearranged editions are made to follow complete editions.

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS CARDS

Numbers to be used in ordering the printed catalog cards of the Library of Congress are given at the end of the main (author) entry of each book. When the card for a serial publication or a many volumed set appearing at intervals is printed as an open entry card, the number is enclosed in curves ( ). Where the card number is enclosed in brackets [ ] it indicates that the card at Library of Congress is for an edition of the book other than the one listed; or is for the English edition when two numbers are given.

When a book is entered before the Library of Congress card number can be procured, the main entry is reentered in a succeeding issue of the Index with the order number attached.

For further information apply to the Card Division of the Library of Congress, Washington 25, D.C.

PREFACE

This volume is a permanent record of books published during the four years, 1953-1956, inclusive. Like its predecessors in the Cumulative Book Index series, it aims to be a complete bibliography of works in English for the years covered—exclusive of government documents, maps, sheet music, cheap and paper-bound editions, pamphlets, tracts, propaganda, and other issues of local, fugitive, or ephemeral nature. Certain other books have been omitted because it was impossible to find the sources from which they could be obtained.

Books published before 1953 or early in 1957 may appear in this volume, if the information was received within the period 1953-1956. Entries appear here, too, for those books, listed in the United States Catalog, 1928 and previous permanent volumes of Cumulative Book Index, for which we have received notice of a correction in publisher. These entries are designated (corr pub). Similarly the main entry has been rerun for books for which large price changes are known to have occurred. These entries have the designation (corr price). However, prices change so rapidly that users are warned when ordering books to check later issues of Cumulative Book Index and to allow also for possible unrecorded price revisions.

No attempt has been made to check out-of-print items. Occasionally when such information was available, it was indicated by the usual sign: op. It has likewise been impossible to trace books of publishers who have recently gone out of business.

Grateful acknowledgement is made to all who have helped with the preparation of this volume; especially to Helaine MacKeigan.
